

Secrets!

“Wanna hear a secret?”

It’s rather strange isn’t it? That question peaks almost everyone’s curiosity. We want to know what it is! What information does someone have that we don’t have and how will it affect my life or my ability to relate to others? We simply want to know. We have more than inquiring minds! We have searching minds!

So this word has been used for so many things that we wonder anything actually secretive? “The Secret To Success!” “Secrets To Famous Illusions Revealed!” “What is the secret to real happiness in marriage?” Well, that last one is certainly an eye catcher! Is there really a secret to 25, 40 or 50 year marriages?

The secret to a happy successful marriage is a four-letter word that no one likes to hear: W-O-R-K! Sure you need commitment! Sure, you need things in common with each other! Sure, marriage requires communication! Yet, each of those ideas involves work! Those who make no effort to build their marriage will find their marriage slowly dissolving!

Keep in mind that God created marriage! Nothing God created was boring or incidental! It was challenging and directed! Marriage has purpose, too! It is more than simply to relieve the physical attraction of members of the opposite sex! It has to do with becoming one! It has to do with companionship and friendship! Out of that relationship we receive understanding of our need for God!

That’s it! That’s the secret to a happy and successful marriage! We must put God first. As we grow closer to Him, we grow closer to each other! That is actually the secret to everything! God is the answer. Of course, you knew that already. It’s really no secret at all!

Love to all,
Andy
